Another Video Surface Where Dominion's CEO Eric Coomer Allegedly Explain To Elections Officials How To Alter Votes In The Dominion Voting Machines

November 28, 2020 • Natalie Dagenhardt • 1385 Views • 2 Comments • 2020 presidential elections, Dominion Voting system, Elections 2020, Eric Coomer, Voter fraud

Opinion

Social media is swarming around the claims that a current (or former, as his position has been scrubbed from the internet) vice-president with Dominion Voter Systems who previously admitted that it was possible for hackers to hack into their voting systems, allegedly, posted several anti-cop, anti-Trump and, frankly anti-American social media posts.

If you search the company's profile Eric Coomer has since been removed from their page of directors.

In 2016 Coomer told the Illinois State Board of Elections that it was possible to bypass election systems software.

Bypassing the election systems software means whoever has access can potentially manipulate the vote without many risks of detection. So the question needs to be asked, who has access to these data tables?

We asked Dr. Coomer that question. Dr. Coomer replied, 'Vendors, election officials, and others who need to be granted access.'

This is explosive information. Dr. Coomer's statement is an admission that various vendors, election officials, and others have access to the back end data tables that permit bypassing the operating system's configuration. It is notable that when someone accesses these systems from a data table, their actions are not logged by the system; thereby making detection much more problematic. This contradicts Dr. Coomer's assurances that the system is secure.

This then is the SECOND VIDEO of top Dominion executive explaining to elections officials how to alter votes with the Dominion machines!

2017 DR. ERIC COOMER EXPLAINS HOW TO ALTER VOTES IN THE DOMINION VOTING SYSTEM

THIS SEEMS ABSOLUTELY RIPE FOR FRAUD

"Don't worry about the election, Trump's not gonna win. I made fking sure of that!" - Dr. Eric Coomer VP of US Engineering for US Dominion Voting Company pic.twitter.com/dEuPIzGOIC

A Twitter thread explains more about this:

3/3 Alarming Audit Fraud!

2016 Illinois Bernie primary audit:

The workers performing the task of manually re-counting ballots from the early voting scrolls, knew what totals they should have while counting and would simply adjust their counts to match.

Bad Kitty 真相 (@pepesgrandma) November 28, 2020

Well, people just need to read the user manual. The databases where votes are counted are simple Microsoft SQL databases. Anyone with admin access to the servers and a little bit of SQL knowledge can undetectably change the results. This can be quickly done with a script that could even be timed.

Dominion put out a statement that "deletion/switching assertions are completely false."
