

The first part of the document is a letter from the Secretary of the State to the Governor, dated the 10th day of January, 1877.

The letter contains a report on the state of the treasury, and a statement of the receipts and disbursements for the year ending on the 31st day of December, 1876.

The report shows that the treasury is in a healthy condition, and that the state is able to meet its obligations.

The Secretary also reports on the progress of the various departments of the state, and on the work done during the year.

The document concludes with a statement of the Secretary's confidence in the future of the state, and a hope that the Governor will be able to carry out his duties with success.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,

Good morning Sherrie,

The email below is from a Salt Lake County resident. I'm going to reach out to her, but before I did I wondered if you had any contact with this individual. Has she ever reached out to your office?

Thanks,

Justin

Dear Mr. Mitchell,

As the Director of Voting Systems, I'm hoping you can answer my questions. I phoned the Lt. Governor's office but was unable to get through to you. If you have a direct number, I'd be happy to call to discuss my questions.

In Utah code 20a-5-802, section 1a mentions a logic and accuracy test. Who does that testing? Is that a State official or a contracted company? If a contracted company, how is
